

STUDENT APPEAL PROCEDURE

Extract from Bulletin No. 26 paragraph 5.2.5.

If a student receives an unsatisfactory grade on an exam, he or she has the right to appeal. An appeal can be submitted by him or her within two days (including the day of the exam).

A committee of at least three people is set up by the head of the faculty to consider the appeal.

The committee evaluates the student's answer. If the committee concludes that the student's answer deserves a positive grade, the grade is recorded on the transcript. The grade given by the committee is final.
