

Чек лист

Date _____

Operation type: "LAPARATOMY"

Student's full name _____

No.	Stage	Action	Check mark
1.	Preparation	Preparing for surgery	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Prepare anesthesia (type of anesthetic, dose by weight).	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Prepare the necessary instruments (scalpel, tweezers, scissors, clamps, needles and threads for sutures, sterile wipes).	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Prepare a sterile table or bedding for the animal.	<input type="checkbox"/>
2	Anesthesia	Put the animal under anesthesia (for example, inhalation or injection).	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Check the adequacy of anesthesia (absence of reflexes).	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Place the animal in a supine position.	<input type="checkbox"/>
	Surgical field	Secure the paws for easy access to the belly.	<input type="checkbox"/>
3		Treat the skin with an antiseptic (for example, 70% alcohol, iodine).	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Make sure that instruments and gloves are sterile	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Make a median or paramedian incision (usually 3–5 cm in an adult hare).	<input type="checkbox"/>
4	Incision and access	Carefully push apart the subcutaneous tissue.	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Dissect the anterior abdominal wall along the incision line.	<input type="checkbox"/>
		If necessary, use clamps to hold the edges of the wound.
	Basic procedure	Examine the abdominal organs (liver, spleen, intestines, bladder).	<input type="checkbox"/>
5		Close the abdominal wall and subcutaneous tissue layer by layer with sutures.	<input type="checkbox"/>
6	Completion of the operation	Place sutures on the skin (eg, catgut or absorbable suture).	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Treat the seam with an antiseptic.	<input type="checkbox"/>
7	Postoperative care	Place the animal in a warm, quiet place to recover.	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Monitor breathing, pulse, temperature and general condition.	<input type="checkbox"/>